B. PHILIPPINES-NETHERLANDS TRADE AND INVESTMENT RELATIONS

Economic relations between the Philippines (PH) and The Netherlands (NL) were elevated to a higher level as both countries have pursued initiatives facilitating trade and investments cooperation, notably the designation of the focal persons under the 1995 Memorandum of Understanding on Economic and Technological Cooperation between the two countries.

Among the significant developments in the PH and NL economic relations were the visit of Dutch Foreign Minister Hanke Bruins Slot in the Philippines in October 2023 and of Philippine Trade and Industry Secretary Alfredo Pascual in The Netherlands in June 2023, which both paved the way to closer, mutually beneficial engagements and collaboration between the Filipino and Dutch business communities.

The Netherlands is an important economic partner of the Philippines and in recent years has been among the latter’s top five investor countries.

The Netherlands ranked first among the Philippines’ top sources of foreign investments approved by the Philippine Investment Promotion Agencies (IPA) in the past 12 years, according to the Philippine Statistics Authority.

P755.19 billion came from investors from The Netherlands in the past 12 years. Similarly, The Netherlands accounted for the biggest value of committed investments amounting to Php 345.76 billion, or 87.7% of the total approved foreign investments, in the last quarter of 2023.

Previously, NL ranked as 3rd investment source in 2022, 2nd in 2021 and 6th in 2020.

Among the approved investments from NL are in real estate, administrative and support service, information and communication, financial and insurance, manufacturing, electricity, gas and air conditioning supply, and professional, scientific and technical activities, among others (data from the Bureau of Trade and Industrial Policy Research).

In terms of trade, NL ranked in 2022 as the 13th major trading partner of PH among all countries – 9th in terms of exports and 22nd in imports.

A significant number of major Dutch companies are doing business in the Philippines, notably ING Bank N.V., TNT Express Worldwide Philippines, Heineken International, Royal Philips, Royal Friesland Campina, East West Seed, Holland America Lines, Royal Van Oord, and the formerly Dutch multinationals – Unilever and Shell.

The Royal Boskalis Westminster N.V. has been making significant headways in the Philippines as it is undertaking land reclamation and development for the San Miguel Aerocity in building the new Manila International Airport, located some 20 kilometers north of Metro Manila. The airport land development project has an estimated value of EUR 1.5 billion (approximately 87 billion pesos), making it the largest project in Boskalis' history. It also works with S.M. Prime Holdings in the "Pasay City Harbor Reclamation" Project with expected completion in 2028 of 265 hectares of two artificial islands.

On the other hand, the semiconductor industry is among the Philippines' top industries, accounting for 62% (EUR49 billion) of PH total exports. PH exports to NL of digital monolithic integrated circuits make up 40% of the country's total exports. The country is also host to a number of Dutch semiconductor companies, namely Ampleon, Sencio B.V., Nexperia, Alliances, and Briskr.

In 2022, the Xinyx Design Consultancy and Services Inc., a 100% Filipino-owned semiconductor company, launched its first international branch office in the High Tech Campus, Eindhoven, The Netherlands. It provides layout services and design services, verification, automation and fully customized solutions.
